

My thoughts about British Science Week 2021

I really enjoyed science week because it was really fun and the tasks made me think creatively and imaginatively.

We mixed milk with food colouring and washing up liquid, we made paper hovercrafts, after a live session with Big Science UK and (the one I enjoyed the most) we drew real lamb's heart and I even got to touch one. Also, in Maths, we made shapes out of toothpicks and marshmallows. It was a STEM activity.

We linked Science to Maths, Fridays Are and Art. My favourite was the lamb's heart but I also liked it when we made shapes out of toothpicks and marshmallows. This was because it was the most enjoyable. If I could have a career in science it would be engineering because I like making things and my dad and brother do it too.
