

My thoughts on home learning in lockdown 2021

During the lockdown in 2021, I thought it was very hard but it was better than the first lockdown because we were able to have a google meet with the teacher. I thought it was easier while we were on online lessons because I got told what to do instead of just doing my own thing.

I was very confident in using google classroom because it wasn't hard at all to navigate around. I didn't have any trouble at all when I was handing in my work and after a while I got the hang of it.

This time, it was different because we had a google meet at different times of the day (three different times) and we were told what to do. Last time, in the big lockdown, it was the summer and I was able to go outside but this time it was the winter so I was mostly indoors. The teacher did set us some tasks to get us outside in the snow and we also had a Wi-Fi free day so that we could have a rest from the computers.

I found it hard not seeing my friends because I like spending time with them.
