

My thoughts about British Science Week 2021

Science week 2021 was very fun and I enjoyed it very much. The activities were making a paper hovercraft, looking at a lamb's heart, mixing milk and food colouring with soap and more. While looking at the lamb's heart we made a sketch of it and after we used water colouring to add on it. We also did a lesson on Fridays are... about science careers and the one that I chose to write about was the aquarist. I enjoyed the lambs heart activity the most because I have never actually seen an animal's heart before. I think the science that we have done has inspired me to learn about plant biology and become a landscaper just like my dad.
